If you are looking for meaningful and engaging work with the flexibility and freedom that contract consulting brings, this may be the opportunity for you!

Who we are

Osborne Interim Management provides senior executives, business advisors and specialized consultants who can deliver solutions to our clients' needs on a flexible contract basis when they are experiencing challenges during transition, rapid growth, loss of leadership or economic uncertainty.

When working with Osborne Interim Management you will be acting as an independent contractor, supported by the Practice and able to collaborate with over 30 other talented principals and advisors across Canada. There is no employment relationship in effect between Osborne and any of its team members.

What we do

Our Interim Managers and Senior Advisors temporarily fill gaps where specific skills are lacking, bring specialized and valuable leadership to the organization, are accountable for their work, produce tangible results and leave the organization once the issue has been resolved, a full-time executive is in place and/or the project is completed.
